SAVED HIS DIMES

By Arthur Brisbane

(Copyright 1930 By King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

W. J. BRYAN MADE a good guess when he suggested sixteen to one as the ratio for gold and silver. The bureau of mines shows that, theoretically, it should be only fourteen to one.

During the past 43 years the world has produced fourteen billion ounces of gold. That amount of silver would make a cube 114 1/2 feet square.

MEXICO LEADS THE world in silver production, with 40 per cent of the total. The United States comes next.

Relatively, gold production has increased more rapidly than silver production. Nevertheless, because the nations have demonetized silver, gold is now worth 50 times as much per ounce as silver, although silver is only 14 times more plentiful.

Bryan could make another good "Cross of Gold" speech on that.

OSCAR BODENHAUSEN, traveling salesman, saved his dimes for 20 years in the savings bank and now begins a six months tour of the world. The dimes will pay for it.

One good idea properly developed 20 years ago might have enabled Mr. Bodenhausen to travel around the world forever.

However, thrift is important. He who saves money, and has it ready, will have power to develop his own idea if he ever gets one. Without the savings his idea might die with him.

IN a small Louisiana town, several children having died of infantile paralysis within a few days, the local authorities forbade all public gatherings.

And wisely the ban included theaters, churches and assemblies of every kind. In old days in time of plague the mob hurried to the churches in search of miraculous protection and the plague was made worse.

A BUDAPEST NEWSPAPER prints a dispatch from Bologna saying Mussolini is recovering satisfactorily from an operation for cancer of the stomach. The surgeon chosen to perform the operation is said to be Dr. Nigroscelli, an anti-Fascist.

Thus the great powers of the church in ancient days usually had Jewish physicians take care of them, disliking their religious beliefs, but preferring their science to the ignorance and quackery of good Christians.

HOW RAPIDLY MONEY grows when well managed. The wife of the late Henry M. Flagler became insane. He divorced her, put her in a sanitarium and put $2,000,000 aside for her use. The unfortunate woman is now dead, after 30 years in the sanitarium, and her $2,000,000 has increased to $15,000,000, which she leaves. Mr. Flagler was an oil man and trustee of his wife's $2,000,000 invested the money in Standard Oil stocks. That helps to explain the increase.

Water Shut-Off For Repairs Thursday

All water will be shut off tomorrow morning between seven and nine on South avenue from Cherry to Aetna, and on Aetna street from Broadway to Lincoln, according to report received from the city water department. A break in the city water line will be repaired.

EARTHQUAKE ROCKS SOUTHERN ITALY

Many Lose Lives When Frail Bridge Collapses

CELEBRATION IN GERMANY TURNS INTO MOURNING

Death Toll Thought 50, May Reach Far More, Reports State

HUNDREDS HURLED INTO DARK WATERS

Hindenberg Halts Journey Of Triumph Into Evacuated Area

(By The Associated Press)

COBLENZ, GERMANY, July 23.—President Von Hindenburg's triumphal progress to the liberated Rhineland was tragically cut short by the collapse of a rickety pontoon bridge over the Moselle river last night in which between 35 and 50 persons lost their lives.

The President today decided to give up the remainder of his tour which had been in honor of the liberation of the Rhineland from allied occupation and to return to Berlin after attending mourning services in Coblenz.

Among the victims of the tragedy which took place in the midst of last night's joyous celebrations was a six-year-old American boy, Raymond Lawler, of Akron, O., who was drowned with his aged grandfather whom he was visiting here. The boy's parents are Willy and Catherine Lawler. His grandfather, whose name was given as Conrad, lived on the Moselle side of Coblenz where the disaster took place.

Death List May Reach Exactly how many perished probably will not be known until relatives report those missing from home, for the spot was dark and there was no way of determining just how many went down with the flimsy bridge.

It was heavily crowded, however, by those who had been watching fireworks from the historic fortress of Ehrenbreitstein to celebrate the evacuation of the Rhineland by French troops, and reliable estimates place the number which fell up to 150.

Of the 34 recovered, 17 were men, 11 women and six children. Ten were rescued and taken to a hospital.

Among the victims were sisters of mercy who were in charge of a group of school girls.

The bridge, which was only 65 feet long and rested on two pontoons, was not designed to carry heavy traffic. It spanned the narrow estuary leading from the Moselle into the so-called Pfaffensteden diagonally across the Moselle from "Deutsches Eck," or German corner at the junction of the Rhine and Moselle.

Bridge Collapses When the great crowd had gathered near Pfaffensteden to watch the illumination of the old fortress and another at "Deutsches Eck," had started homeward. The short length of the frail bridge quickly became massed with people.

The illumination of Ehrenbreitstein was just dying and all those crossing crowded to the side facing the display that they might see the final glow. With this lopsided load the structure suddenly dropped into the water.

Frenzied shouts for aid were heard and police and firemen quickly began rescue work by torch light. Their efforts were handicapped by the tendency of the panicked victims to cling to one another as they went under. Others were pinned beneath the collapsed framework and many of the dead were struck by loose timbers.

Anxious relatives waited all night for the bodies to be recovered, while pitiful scenes were witnessed in the nearby shed used as a temporary morgue.

FATHER ADMITS SLAYING THREE

West Virginian Held For Jury Without Bond On Murder Charges

MARTINSBURG, W. VA., July 23.—Taylor Hott, 34-year-old laborer, was held without bond for grand jury action for the deaths of his three children, who he admitted slaying, presumably while mentally deranged from poverty, unemployment, and possibly the heat.

He killed them, he said, because his wife could not take care of them. The children, Gertrude, seven; Calvin six, and Floyd Preston, five, were found strangled in a quarry hole near here Monday. Hott admitted he had lured them to the pool with a promise that they might go swimming, then bound them with strips of cloth and hurled their bodies into the quarry hole.

He believes that love knows no age, and is shown surrounded by a bevy of admiring lassies shortly after his arrival at New York for his tour of the United States.

Death Of Worker Halts Painting

PORTSMOUTH, July 23.—Bowing to an ancient superstition, 50 painters on the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad bridge at Sciotoville stopped work Tuesday and will continue out until after funeral services for James Rice, 21, Hitchens, Ky., who drowned when he was blown from a scaffold.

Authorities recovered Rice's body a short time later. They said he had been ill from excessive heat and when struck by the wind toppled into the river. The painters said there was an ancient superstition that they must cease work until after a victim of an accident is buried.

VISIT TO FRANCE DISCUSSED HERE

War Widow Has Account Of Experiences During Gold Star Trips

Mrs. Alice Bye of Damascus, member of the Salem American Legion auxiliary, gave an interesting account of her trip to her husband's grave in France last May, at a meeting of the Auxiliary Tuesday evening at the Legion home, East State street.

Mrs. Bye's husband, Arthur Bye, was killed in action in France during the World war.

The trip from New York City to Cherbourg, France, took nine and a half days and from Cherbourg to Paris was a seven hour ride on the train. Mrs. Bye stated, she described many places of interest which she visited. She heard Major Jefferies give an address in which he praised the widows and mothers of the fallen heroes, and suggested that a gold star be placed in the American flag as a reminder of what these men had done for their country.

The crosses which mark the graves of the soldiers are three feet high, bear their names and give the state which they were from and the name of their company. Mrs. Bye also showed pictures she brought from France.

Mrs. Ralph Sturgeon was elected a delegate to the state convention which will be held Aug. 17, 18 and 19, at Cincinnati.

Twelve members of the Canfield unit were guests of the Salem unit on this occasion.

YOUTH TO FACE LIQUOR CHARGE

Douglas Johnson Arrested Tuesday For Possession, Transportation Of Liquor; In City Jail

Douglas Johnson of Salem, was arrested on charges of unlawful intoxicating liquors by patrolman Ralph Stoffer and lodged in city jail for arraignment before Mayor M. Davidson, Tuesday.

Charges filed against Johnson are based on his alleged desertion of an automobile on the North Benton road, near this city, five weeks ago when Stoffer attempted to arrest him.

Stoffer followed his car from this city to the North Benton road where Johnson is reported to have met another man, a former Salem resident, for the purpose of unloading a quantity of liquor into the other car.

County Crops In Dire Need Of Heavy Rains

Unless rain falls in profusion the next few days, the corn, potatoes, and pastures of this vicinity are certain to be ruined, according to the prediction of L. H. Copeland, official United States weather observer at Millport.

This year has seen the driest June and July in 38 years with July temperature reaching the high record of 95 degrees on Sunday, the second time that July mercury has stood so high. On July 4, 1911, temperature reached 99 at the Millport station, which seldom registers a temperature above 95. Highest temperature recorded at the Billport station was August 6-7, 1918, when the record of 103 was set.

DRY SEASON MAY INJURE CROPS IN MOUNTAIN AREAS

Corn, Gardens, Reported In Serious Condition, Observer States

MARKED DEFICIENCY PREVAILS IN RAINS

Spring Wheat Damaged; Extent Uncertain; Late Rains Bring Relief

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Unusual drought conditions for virtually all of the area between the Rocky mountains and the Appalachians were reported Tuesday by J. B. Kincher, agricultural meteorologist.

With the exception of small portions of the area, Kincher said "a marked deficiency" in general rainfall has been prevalent in the past nine weeks. Coupled with this, he added, in increasing crop damage have been two periods of high temperatures which "very rapidly depleted" soil moisture.

Light rains have been reported for some portions in the past three days. As applied to the greater portion of the area, however, Kincher said, "growing crops are in a very precarious condition, especially corn, gardens, truck crops and pastures."

Winter wheat, he pointed out, largely escaped the drought since most of it has been harvested.

Spring wheat, on the other hand, he added, has "been damaged to an uncertain extent."

"The corn crop is the most uncertain," Kincher said. "A continuation of the drought undoubtedly would be very serious. At the present time corn has been harmed in most parts of Ohio, Southern Virginia, Kentucky, Southern Illinois, Southeastern Missouri, Arkansas and Southwestern Iowa."

Light rains have occurred in the last 24 hours, in Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota, the extreme western part of Iowa and in the northern part of the Ohio valley.

In the immediate Ohio valley, including Kentucky, most of Ohio, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, Tennessee, Arkansas, Texas, Oklahoma and the central gulf states, he said there has been practically no rain.

BUILDER DIES FROM INJURIES

"Paddy" Harmon Expires In Chicago; Known By Thousands

CHICAGO, July 23.—The last request of P. T. ("Paddy") Harmon, dreamer and builder of the world's greatest indoor sports arena, was that he be laid out in the stadium "my stadium."

Just before he died yesterday from injuries suffered when his automobile overturned in a ditch, Harmon asked to go once more to the $7,000,000 west side building—the highest material accomplishment of a career that started as a street lighter and included promotion of championship boxing matches, six-day bicycle races and dances.

Arrangements for his funeral, however, were held up today, pending the result of serious injuries suffered by his wife, Mrs. May Harmon, who with Dr. Thomas Brand, was in the automobile.

Thousands of youngsters and grownups who as youngsters, benefited by Harmon's Christmas charities during the last 20 years, today mourned his death, as did hundreds of others who were associated with him.

FIRE DESTROYS BARN ON FARM; LOSS IS HEAVY

Crops, Farm Machinery In Building Destroyed In Night Blaze

LISBON, July 23.—Fire of unknown origin destroyed the large two-story modern bank barn on the Lote Lodge farm, located in section 35, Salem township, about 8:45 p. m. Tuesday, with an estimated loss of between $10,000 and $15,000.

While Mr. and Mrs. Lodge were sitting on their porch last evening they saw the flames come out from a stairway in the barn. An alarm was sent out, but having no fire-fighting facilities the flames gained such headway that the building was consumed before help could be secured.

The Leetonia fire department responded, but it is reported was stalled by traffic, scores of people having come from nearby towns.

While no stock was burned, all the farm machinery and equipment and the season's crops were consumed. Lodge had $2,500 insurance on the barn.

Mr. and Mrs. Lodge were both burned in trying to put out the fire. Lodge sustained burns on the left hand and about the face, and Mrs. Lodge sustained burns on the right arm. They were treated by a Lisbon physician.

The operation was said to have been successful and he was reported recovering rapidly. Hospital authorities declined to furnish any details concerning the aviator's death, but said that a statement probably would be issued later in the day.

FEAR FOR LIVES OF 100 PERSONS AS WALLS FALL

Tremor Most Severe In Memory Of Oldest Residents

DAMAGE CAUSED OVER BIG AREA

Rescue Organizations Are Speeding To Scene Of Catastrophe

ROME, July 23.—The earthquakes which shook southern Italy this morning were felt in Rome at 1:11 a. m. No damage was reported.

(By The Associated Press)

NAPLES, July 23.—The Stefani News agency estimated this morning that 100 persons were killed and several hundred injured in the regions of southern Italy shaken by three sharp earth shocks shortly after 1 o'clock this morning.

The exact number was difficult to determine because of disrupted communications but definite figures obtained before noon showed 70 deaths and 149 injured, divided as follows:

NAPLES—Three killed and 30 injured, 10 seriously. BARILE—Ten killed. ATELLA—Six killed. VENOSA—Six injured. BUONALBERGO—Three killed, twenty injured. RIONERO—Eleven killed, 50 injured. BENEVENTO PROVINCE—Twelve killed, 40 injured. SALERNO PROVINCE—Two killed. FOGGIA PROVINCE—Three killed, numerous injured.

Other reports said casualties were recorded in Avellino and Potenza. The tremors shook buildings and the casualties resulted from the collapse of walls, Church steeples and the like.

Run Into Streets In all the cities, the frightened residents ran into the streets, panic stricken, and some injuries resulted from the commotion.

The shocks were felt as far away as Ancona on the Adriatic coast.

Vatican Acts In Italian Tragedy

VATICAN CITY, July 23.—Pope Pius, informed early today by Cardinal Pacelli of the earthquake disaster in southern Italy, expressed the utmost horror and spent some moments in prayer for the repose of the souls of the victims. Later he instructed Monsignor Cremonesi, his secret almoner, to have ready a sizeable sum for relief.

and at Chieti, Teramo and Aquila in the Abruzzi region.

The panic in Naples was increased when electricity was cut off, the frantic inhabitants rushing about in the darkness, shouting and crying.

Firemen, police and Fascist militiamen quickly mobilized to restore order and collect the casualties.

The panic reached its height in the jail, where terrorized prisoners pleaded to be freed for fear the roof would crumble.

Carabinieri quickly quieted them.

Royalty Goes To Aid

The duchess of Aosta, wife of the cousin of King Victor Emmanuel, left her palace at Capodimonte immediately after the tremors and went among the injured in a Red Cross uniform, doing much to alleviate the alarm.

A relief expedition left Potenza at 4 o'clock this morning. Technical and sanitary experts, soldiers and workmen armed with tools to clear away the debris were on board a special train.

A nine-year-old boy and a baby were among the victims in Naples. The boy was killed when a wing of a building at Casanova bridge and the baby died in the crumbling of the fifth floor of a building.

Veterans of frequent earthquakes in this region said they could not remember any shocks more severe than those of this morning.

The center of the seismic movement appeared to have been between Melit, Arlano and Apuglia. Cadets on the Argentine training ship President Sarmiento reached here this morning and left the ship to visit scenes of the disaster.

Louisville Concern Gets City Contract

Contract to furnish the city of Salem with 32 new fire hydrants was awarded to the Voge Brothers Manufacturing company of Louisville, Ky., by the board of control today.

Three bids on the project were received by Safety Director John D. Kerr Tuesday afternoon. The Louisville concern's proposal of $2,000 was low.

The hydrants will be delivered to the city within 10 days and will be installed immediately. Fire Chief V. L. Malloy announced this morning.

THE RECALL IN AMERICA

Interest in the recall, on which Detroit voters were casting their ballots today to determine whether their mayor will keep his job, was awakened in the 20th century by Switzerland's use of this piece of voting machinery.

Despite this reawakened interest in this means of checking on a public official, it has been used less extensively in the United States than was anticipated by its proponents. For one thing, its mere threat operates to check flagrant malfeasance in office; Woodrow Wilson called it a "gun behind the door." For another, the machinery using it is necessarily cumbersome. Finally, many of the state and municipal provisions for recall leave the voters in doubt as to who would succeed the recalled official, so that often they prefer to "bear those ills they have than fly to others that they know not of."

In 1921 the governor of North Dakota, along with the attorney general and the state commissioner of agriculture, were recalled in a popular election. Some years ago the threat of recall was believed to have been responsible for the resignation of Mayor Harper of Los Angeles. The recent dismissal of William R. Hopkins, Cleveland's city manager, was done by vote of the city council.

During the decade preceding American participation in the World war the recall received most attention in this country. Since then it has abated to a great degree, and has been adopted less widely than the initiative and referendum. Only 11 states, mostly in the west, have provisions now by which state officers may be recalled by popular vote after petition by a percentage of the registered voters. In seven of these states the recall provisions are applicable to the state judiciary. However, more than 400 municipalities in the United States have provided for recall of their elected officials. These, for the greater part, are municipalities under the commission or city manager forms of government.

SIMPLE LIFE

The death of Camila Thaurane in Guantanamo, Cuba, last week, naturally attracts attention to living people of extreme age, for this Negro was playing with dolls when General George Washington was leading the Continental army against the British in the war for American independence. Her age was 157 years, a year greater than that of Zoro Agba, the native of Turkey, who is visiting this country.

Somewhat older than either of these is Mrs. Fatima Hanen, a native of Thrace residing in Angora, Turkey, who is credited with having attained the age of 163 years. The French author, Henri Barbusse, returning from a trip into the Ural mountains last year, reported having found a Russian peasant shown by the records of his family to have been 170 years old at that time.

But of all living people, the palm for age must go to a Chinaman, Li Chung-yun, who is hale and hearty at the reputed age of 252 years. He may be years younger than he is generally held to be, but there are several Chinese of extreme age who say that their grandparents knew him as a man of many years while they were yet in their youth. Unquestionably he is the oldest human being known. He was the guest of the former war lord, Wu Peifu, last March, during which visit he instructed Wu Peifu in the use of the herbs he claims are responsible for his extreme longevity.

Admitting for the sake of argument that the ages of all these people have been overestimated, there can be little doubt but what the Cuban Negress lived and the others named herein have lived scores of years beyond man's allotted three score and ten. It is a significant fact that none of them ever lived other than the simple life; that none of them ever enjoyed what are recognized as life's luxuries.

A village believed to be 4000 years old has been uncovered in Spain near Madrid. It's remarkable how much old stuff has been dug up since Mr. Ford went in for antiques.

What Others Say

THE COUNTRY AND PRESIDENT
President Hoover's striking victories in the closing days of the late session of congress are having their repercussions both around the country and in the senate. The treaty debate has started amid unmistakable signs of administration strength and opposition weakness.

It is a tiring and utterly unnecessary harassment that the opposition senators will impose upon the President if they carry their debate to the point of filibuster. Yet we imagine that Mr. Hoover can find enough quiet, amusement, in the present reaction in his favor in certain quarters to compensate even for Washington heat in July.

Political skies change rapidly when intense partisanship paints the colors. Only a few weeks ago the President's political status was in a sad, sad way according to the Democratic press. Seldom has a yipping partisanship attacked a President more intemperately or absurdly. His sins were legion and his failures colossal. Reading such an editorial page as that of the New York World one could only wonder why Mr. Hoover bothered to serve out his term, why he did not resign and turn over the presidency to some good Democrat.

The yipping has suffered a sudden abatement in recent weeks. Fairer-minded papers which were affected by the hue and cry, frankly admit now that Mr. Hoover has gained greatly in prestige through his fight with the senate and unquestionably has the country overwhelmingly behind him. "Patience and hit hard when the time comes" has been a wiser policy than hasty critics foresaw.

As a matter of fact the country at large never takes partisan attacks upon its president too seriously. Sentiment still runs strongly with Mr. Hoover as support of his treaty fight indicates. The prayers of the whole country will be that the perspiring senate will show enough sense to wind up the present futile struggle speedily and permit the President to get the rest and respite from congressional wrangling which he has richly earned.—New York Herald Tribune.

The Stars Say

For Thursday, July 24.

The stellar operations dominant on this day make for enterprise, ambition and fine initiative, with the goal pitched high in many directions, but while these are under excellent prospects, yet there may be unexpected frustrating circumstances with some stubborn obstacle to be removed before real progress is made. There may be unforeseen change or journey and dealings with strangers, with whom be wary. Personal matters should thrive and give satisfaction.

Those whose birthday it is may prepare for a year of lively conditions, with much initiative, resourcefulness and ambition, but they may meet with stubborn obstacles and unexpected opposition with unforeseen change or journey. With determination and persistence affairs should prosper, and the private interests be gratifying and pleasant.

A child born on this day should be versatile, ambitious and well-equipped for success, despite many obstacles and unforeseen opposition to projects. It should succeed and have a pleasant private life.

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland

Re-Build System in Vacation

Every now and then during the summer months, my thoughts go out to the vacationist. I think of the thousands who are somewhere pleasure bent, of those who seek rest and recuperation from strenuous city life. I give thought to those who expect to build for health against the stress and strain of the rest of the year.

When you are planning for a vacation, be sure you select a sanitary place. Whether it be a summer hotel, a boarding house, a camp or seashore place, it must be one that has a pure milk, food and water supply. If the children are going to a camp take particular care that the sanitary laws are observed to the letter. Investigate the camp before your child is sent there. Be sure it has the approval of State and local health officers. Many a child has returned from camp life with typhoid germs lurking in the system, germs acquired from milk or water that has been contaminated.

I should like to say something about sports and athletics of children in camp. Of course, all the best camps have careful supervision of sports. It must be remembered that boys and girls who have not been accustomed to them must be cautioned not to go too strenuously into sports. There must be a gradual hardening of the body before competitive sports are indulged in by children, or adults either. Have the family doctor look over your child before sending the youngster to camp.

Thousands of people are off on almost daily motoring and hiking expeditions. They have dangers to face. It has been found that persons are more liable to typhoid who stop at camping places, places remote, where drinking water is taken in brook and spring than those who go to summer hotels and boarding houses. Much trouble is saved by taking along the thermos bottle of drinking water, unless you are to visit a spot known to be safe. Don't take any chances in the water you drink.

It is scarcely necessary to urge plenty of physical exercise for the general vacationist. Rather it is better to remind him that too much or too strenuous exercise is unwise, particularly if he is not accustomed to it. Begin a gradual building up of the body muscles. Exercise in moderation. Do not attempt too long walks in the heat of the day.

Take a first aid kit along on your vacation. Maybe you won't need it, but in case of accident it is a fine thing to have.

The seaside places are mecca for millions of people. You can't find a place without its Coney Island. There are things to be said for and against going into the water where too many people bathe but you can't always stop them.

Don't stay in the hot sun all day, for you may have to pay the penalty with raw-burned skin and much misery. You can have too much of any good thing. Begin the tanning process gradually, toughening the skin to the sun's rays gently and gradually.

Those who make of vacation a time of right living, rest and recuperation return in the autumn in new vigor and health. In the early fall they passing through in the city streets are a more alive, reanimated, healthy lot of individuals, glad to be back in the fray. It is distinctly worth while to know how to spend a vacation wisely and well.

FARM WOMAN

After Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lickdale, Pa.—"Before I was married, my mother and sister and I did all the farming work on a 64-acre farm for eleven years. I married a farmer and now in addition to my housework and the care of my children I help him with the outside work on our farm. After my last child was born, I began to suffer as many women do. Finally our family doctor told me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did and now I am a new woman and I know that good health is better than riches."—Mrs. CLYDE J. When a corporation wishes to build a factory . . . when a city constructs a new subway . . . whenever a large undertaking of that nature is planned, the first step is almost invariably a request for bids on the work. This practice of competitive bidding has saved millions of dollars. It assures the city or corporation of getting the best value for every dollar spent.

The same system can be applied to your own buying. And you can save a proportionate amount of money. How? Simply by consulting the advertising pages of this paper!

When you find yourself in need of a vacuum cleaner, a refrigerator, a pair of shoes, a new suit—anything—don't rush out and buy the first one offered you. Exercise the power of selection that the advertisements give you. Read about each one—what it will do, who makes it, what it costs. Then, when you find the one that best suits your needs and pocketbook, buy it! In this way you'll be spending your money wisely. You'll know what you're getting and how much it costs—before you buy it.

THE DAY In Sports

GOLF CADDIE NEAR PAR HESTON WINS VAULT

Jerome Kaiser, 15-year-old caddie at the Salem Golf club, came within two strokes of a par in an 18-hole match with two other caddies Tuesday morning when he completed nine holes with a score of 37.

He parred seven of the nine holes and on his second line he turned in a 41, totalling 78 for the 18 holes.

It was one of the best scores registered at the course during the present season. Don McLeay, the club professional, has turned in several better scores and has also bettered par several times, but the caddie's score will go down as one of the best registered by amateurs.

His score by holes follows: First round—4 5 5 4 3 4 4 3—37. Second round—5 5 5 4 5 5 5 3—41.

James Alaback, Walter Linder and Stanley Komasky played with Kaiser.

Dean Heston, 20-year-old Salem athlete, won first place in the pole vault in the field and track meet held for students at the Citizens Military Training camp, Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind. Heston competed with vaulters from Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky.

Dun Eden and Sunset Park will clash again for the second game of their district series next month, the close contest last Sunday having resulted in a demand for another engagement at the Marlboro park. It was one of the best games played in this district this year.

The Salem aggregation was on its way to a decisive victory over the Sunsets until Lefty Gantz was forced out of the game. Johnny Howell, his successor, was ineffective and hurled his poorest game of the year. Howell has failed to perform creditably except against weak teams, while Gantz, despite his age, is still recognized as one of Ohio's outstanding southpaws.

Malcolm Rush was the big gun in Salem's attack and still looks like major league material, clouting two home runs and fielding well throughout the game.

Miniature golf is becoming almost as popular as the regular game of pasture pool, three courses having been installed in Salem within the past week. Two held formal openings last Saturday while a third will be opened this week end. William "Bill" McKown, former Salem High star athlete, will be the operator of the new course which will be located on East State street, east of the city hospital and adjacent to Carl Juergens' driving course.

Politics Taboo With Mrs. Moody

SAN FRANCISCO, July 23.—Helen Willis Moody declined to play tennis with the governor of California, Tuesday.

Telling news camera men who had assembled for the event, she did not want to be "mixed up in politics," the woman's tennis champion of the world refused to appear on a tennis court with Gov. C. C. Young, who is a candidate for re-election.

Frederick S. Moody, father-in-law of the former Helen Willis, is a member of the state highway commission under Gov. Young.

What The Stars Did Yesterday

GEORGE UHLE, Tigers—Punch single in eighth drove in two runs that beat Athletics.

DICK COFFMAN, Browns—Pitched effectively to beat Senators, 3 to 1.

EARL AVERILL, Indians—Accounted for five runs against Yankees with two homers and pair of singles.

ACOLLIS THURSTON, Robins—Banked Cards, 1-0, with three hits.

PHIL COLLINS, Phillies—hit two home runs and single, pitched well, to beat Pirates.

BILL WALKER, Giants—Stopped Cubs with six hits and beat them, 6-1.

Hudlin, Averill Star As Tribe Takes Twinbill From Yankees

Willis Hudlin's pitching in the first and two home runs by Earl Averill in the second game again proved the Cleveland Indians the jinx team of the New York Yankees, the Oileans taking both ends of a doubleheader from Bob Shawkey's team at League park by scores of 6-5 and 10-8.

George Piggas almost broke the jinx the Peckmen have held on his team all season but lost even after the Indians had almost thrown the game away on errors. Two runs in the ninth inning gave the Cleveland team its tieing and winning runs.

Yanks Field Poorly.

New York fielders were in a generous mood in the second game, making six errors but it took Averill's homer in the eighth inning his second of the game, to decide the contest. The double victory left the Tribe six games behind the Yankees.

St. Louis made it a real triumph by downing the Washington Senators 3 to 1 for a third straight win. Not only did the victory protect the Browns' record of having beaten the Senators oftener than they have lost to them, a thing no other club has done this year, but it put St. Louis in sixth place a few points ahead of Chicago.

Dick Coffman's pitching turned the trick although the Browns were again out-hit, 7-9. He kept the Sen-

Today's Pattern

It is smart to have capelets in place of sleeves, and particularly smart when the lines of the capelets continue into the skirt to form a panel as in the frock sketched today. The skirt is gracefully flared back and front. There are sleeves with the pattern, if you prefer them.

Pattern 1992 may be fashioned of silk crepe, voile, chiffon, georgette or dimity. A vividly designed print on a pastel ground would be stunning, or one might select black and white, red and white or navy and chartreuse.

May be obtained only in sizes 16, 18, 20, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44. Size 16 requires 5 1/2 yards of 39 inch material.

DETROIT MAYOR LOSSES IN VOTE

First Official Of Large American City To Be Recalled From Post

DETROIT, July 23.—Mayor Charles Bowles today was placed in the role of first mayor of a major American city to be recalled from office.

By a majority of 30,956 out of 210,770 votes cast, he was called from the office he has held for six months in yesterday's special election after a bitter two weeks campaign, the vote was: For the recall, 120,863; against the recall 89,907.

As a result, Detroit is on the threshold of another municipal election, its third in little more than nine months. Mayor Bowles, who continues in office until his successor is elected and qualified, automatically becomes a candidate for re-election. No other candidates have yet announced.

The next election must be held within 30 days after the results of yesterday's balloting have been duly canvassed and certified. Five days are allowed for these formalities.

That the mayor and his supporters are planning a fight to the finish was indicated by the statements of the mayor and his campaign manager, John Gillespie, commissioner of public works.

The mayor said the 10 days of campaigning was insufficient to "overcome the prejudice produced by misrepresentation during the last seven months."

Gillespie said "we have just started to fight and have 35 days to go."

The Edible Vegetable Garnish

To make the root vegetables more attractive, they may be served as a garnish—that is, either, in small fancy shapes added to other vegetables or meats—or as casings.

Small beets, white turnips, carrots, squash, can be cooked whole, then partly scooped out and the hollow filled with some other cooked vegetable. Small beets, filled with cooked peas, and dressed with salt, melted butter and perhaps a dash of lemon juice are attractive to the eye and blend well in flavor. Or they may be chilled and served dressed with mayonnaise.

Carrots, with the tapering end removed, and the wide part scooped out can be filled with any small vegetables like peas, corn, lima beans, or to obtain a very decorative effect, with a few cooked asparagus tips, stood upright.

White turnips filled with succotash combination are very good, especially if the lima beans and the corn are fresh cooked, and dressed only with butter, salt and pepper so that their natural flavors are retained.

Even the despised and neglected parsnips—if they must be eaten—can be camouflaged cheerfully as fancy casings for more desirable vegetables. Boiled, partly scooped out at the wide end, and filled with well-seasoned peas, or corn, small onions or tomatoes, they become quite palatable.

Raw cucumbers and tomatoes make delightful casings for cooked vegetables. Cucumbers must be cut lengthwise, scooped out to form "boats" and can be filled with any cooked small vegetables—fresh, or left-over, and held together, with a cooked dressing or mayonnaise.

With little care, and far from reminding one of arduous jobs, they are handsome enough to tempt one to culinary exercise.

ANNOUNCER FOR RADIO STATION SHOT TO DEATH

Relatives Believe Talks
On Air Resulted In Murder Of Man

DETROIT, July 23.—Gerald E. "Jerry" Buckley, announcer for radio station WMBZ, was shot and killed by three men in the lobby of the LaSalle hotel at 1:50 a. m. today, two and a half hours after he had talked over the radio.

Buckley had taken an active part in the campaign to recall Mayor Charles Bowles. His last announcement was a statement that the mayor had been recalled in yesterday's election. Buckley had been an opponent of the mayor.

Paul Buckley, former assistant prosecutor of Wayne county and brother of the slain man, said Gerald had been threatened because of his activities in favor of the recall.

"There is no doubt but Jerry's activities in the recall movement and the turn in the recall election was the sole reason for the shooting," he said. Paul Buckley said Gerald had told him he had been threatened by letter and by telephone.

Buckley was sitting in the lobby of the hotel when three men, approached him from behind and fired 11 bullets into his body at close range. Six bullets entered the back of his head. All within an area of four inches. He was shot in the neck, arm, leg and foot.

Jack Klein, motion picture operator, was sitting in a chair beside Buckley. He said he ran when the shooting started. He could not describe the assassins. After killing Buckley, the three gunmen ran out of the hotel, entered a car and drove away.

Wright Gedge, secretary of the Michigan Broadcasting Co., which operates station WMBZ, said Buckley told him he had been threatened because of his activities for the recall. "They are out to get me," he said Buckley told him.

ENTHUSIASTIC letters about the Ford car arrive daily from every part of the world. The following is typical of a great number received.

"Just a word regarding our experience with the Model A Ford.

"We purchased the car January 7, 1929. In the first twelve months it was driven more than twenty-four thousand miles over all kinds of roads and in all kinds of weather, from the nearly impassable roads we had in the spring of 1929 through burning heat. Also through the heaviest of rainstorms where many cars were dead and had to sit on the roadside until they were dried out and pulled in, and through deep snow.

"The valves were ground at twenty thousand miles and apparently the car was running perfectly at that time, but some of the service men thought it would be advisable to grind them. Inspection of the motor at that time showed it to be in perfect condition.

"The only expense we have had is 75c for a shock absorber link and 50c for a new rubber for the windshield wiper.

"The car has given an average better than twenty miles to the gallon of gas. We are well pleased with the performance of the Model A Ford car and believe it is the most economical car there is on the market."

Thousands of other Ford owners report the same satisfactory service and economy of operation and up-keep. In comfort, safety, speed, power, beauty, reliability—in everything that goes to make a good automobile—the new Ford is a value far above the price you pay.

WOMAN DIES OF BULLET WOUNDS

Third Victim Of Marietta Shooting Succumbs In Hospital Tuesday

MARIETTA, O., July 23.—Mrs. O. L. Heyrock died in a hospital here of bullet wounds inflicted by her son-in-law, Deming McCulloch, who committed suicide after shooting Mrs. Heyrock and Mrs. Ruth McCulloch, his estranged wife. Mrs. McCulloch died Monday night. Mrs. Heyrock died as physicians were preparing for a blood transfusion. She had suffered two bullet wounds during the shooting at her home when McCulloch attempted to effect a reconciliation with his wife.

MOVIES

THE TALKIE PICTURE has developed an unusual demand for stage productions which have had successful runs on Broadway. The relation between the stage play and dialogue production has not only advanced closer but has overlapped. The play depends upon its spoken words and is restricted in its action by the stage limitations whereas, once the picture depended upon unlimited action, now it has broadened its scope to such an extent that it retains all of its stage power and has added action.

"This Thing Called Love" is another former New York play, one of Gotham's most recent comedy hits. It has been developed for the celluloid with Constance Bennett and Edmund Lowe as leading characters and is said to have surpassed its predecessor in popularity. "This Thing Called Love" which will be on view at the Grand theater tonight is a story of an experiment in marriage among the wealthy of America. It is neither free love nor companionate, but a plan whereby the husband pays his wife a salary and neither attempts real matrimonial love, but both are free to have their own affairs of the heart. There is a surprising climax.

In addition to Edmund Lowe and Constance Bennett, who are featured, the cast in this production includes Zasu Pitts, Carmelita Geraghty, Ruth Taylor, Roscoe Karns, Stuart Erwin, John Roche and others.
